

H3 funding overview

21 September 2020

Introduction:

There is more to this than just Climate Change and the CNGE Initiative (for COVID-19), and you can see the full scope of the H3 organisation in the Eden is Burning and Save Steps books. I'm happy to go into more than just Climate Change and the CNGE if you want, but I think there is merit in keeping the focus on Climate Change and COVID-19 for right now.

Scope of initial funding:

The scope of initial funding now is to get the COVID-19 initiative front and centre on the global stage. This will bring H3 and the approach to Climate Change along with it.

Funding requirement:

I've been working through all of this (H3) in solitude and poverty for almost twenty years, and I'm making no secret of the fact that for right now it's just me, but it won't be just me for very long as soon as I have the $15 million that is required to do this.

Process for initial funding:

Just before COVID-19 settled in I was going to contact you with a completely different approach to Climate Change and the funding process was going to be very different. Because we're now doing the CNGE Initiative first and H3 is almost certainly going to be funded through the roof as we're implementing CNGE, we should probably just go for something standard like a loan. The H3 operation, which will be done immediately after we complete the CNGE Initiative, requires a lot more than $15 million, so paying back this loan and interest will not be a difficulty. Also, time is of the essence and my sense is that the money may come faster if I suggest it as a loan; is that an erroneous assumption, I don't know.

Supplementary information:

Be under no illusions that we ARE going to do the CNGE Initiative. It is something we absolutely can do inside our system so there is no way governments can resist doing it. The CNGE Initiative will replace the trillions of dollars lost from the pandemic, and the H3 approach to Climate Change will add trillions more into the economy when we get to that. You're getting a pretty clear overview of what the CNGE is and I'm showing you the specific details of the approach to Climate Change. Help me do it for either of those reasons or both, and for undefined future benefits for yourself; they will be considerable; have someone look into this for you. The one page document I've prepared that lists the proof I've already thrown out into the open is a place to start: Proof of H3. A final point on the funding line is that there is no equity stake option at this point, and that IS a deal breaker. There are options for this inside the H3 operation and things like that will come later.

However massive and out of the blue it may seem, we are going to do the CNGE, but you don't know the full details so you can't be sure. One thing you can know for sure is with a kick-off such as I'm suggesting (full page announcements in major newspapers around the world), something like this IS going to make one of the biggest noises of the year; I assume we can agree on that? Isn't it worth handing the money over to someone just to see them try to do something like this??????? To watch the show as it were. It's not as if I'm going to have any difficulty raising the money for the Climate Change initiative after a massive profile splash like this. Have you seen the Climate Change details yet?
